Success story

Strengthening enterprise risk governance with an integrated ServiceNow® GRC solution.

Retail and distribution

Challenge

A major retailer and distributor needed to modernize how risks were identified, tracked, and governed across a fast-moving, highly regulated environment. Risk assessments were performed in silos, controls documentation was scattered across systems, and leadership lacked a unified view of exposure, accountability, and compliance. The organization required a centralized and automated way to ensure traceability, transparency, and long-term regulatory alignment.

Solution

The organization partnered with COFOMO to deploy a tailored governance, risk, and compliance solution built on ServiceNow® Integrated Risk Management (IRM) and the CMDB. With a dedicated COFOMO expert embedded on-site, the project combined agility and deep platform expertise. Together, they:

- integrated NIST and PCI frameworks;
- created dynamic, filter-based risk entities;
- deployed customized assessment forms;
- automated risk-owner workflows;
- built real-time dashboards to consolidate visibility and drive consistent governance.

Results

- Centralized governance: All risks, controls, and compliance data managed within a single ServiceNow® environment.
- Standardized processes: Automated, repeatable assessments with clear ownership and traceability.
- Enhanced visibility: Real-time IRM dashboards linking risks to specific assets, applications, and processes.

Success story

Transforming IT service delivery for 15,000 healthcare professionals with ServiceNow®.

Healthcare

Challenge

A large healthcare organization operating with siloed, manual IT processes struggled to manage more than 120,000 service requests annually. Without a centralized platform, the IT team faced long response times, higher operating costs, inconsistent service levels, and low staff morale. Clinical teams, dependent on reliable IT systems, felt the impact daily. The organization needed to streamline operations, improve visibility, and modernize service delivery to better support patient care.

Solution

Following a competitive tender, the organization selected COFOMO for its cross-functional expertise and Premier Partner status with ServiceNow®. COFOMO deployed ITSM and ITOM across more than 220 catalogue items, working collaboratively with internal teams. The solution introduced ITIL-aligned processes, automated asset discovery, and a consolidated CMDB capturing clinical, endpoint, and network devices. COFOMO's multidisciplinary team spanned integration, database, project management, and change management and guided the organization through a complete transformation.

Results

- Enhanced centralization: A user-friendly service catalogue accessible to all employees.
- Reliable automation: Real-time CMDB updates became the single source of truth for incidents and compliance.
- Lower operating costs: Standardized, automated processes reduced handling time and costs.
- Improved service quality: Better visibility enabled faster incident resolution and more efficient change management.
- Stronger clinical support: A more agile IT function directly improved support for patient-facing teams. Knowledge transfer enabled full autonomy, ensuring long-term sustainability and agility.

- System integration
- Asset discovery and CMDB design
- Project and change management
- ITIL-based process redesign

Success story

Restoring delivery confidence and accelerating platform maturity with a hybrid ServiceNow[®] model.

Finance & Insurance

Challenge

A leading Canadian financial services co-operative faced recurring difficulties executing ServiceNow® projects and managing its platform effectively. Governance was fragmented, decision-making lacked structure, and project credibility had declined. The team struggled to prioritize and absorb a growing backlog, leading to high costs and limited return on investment. To stabilize and evolve its ServiceNow® environment, the client needed a reliable, scalable delivery model and clear operational governance.

Solution

The organization partnered with COFOMO to implement a collaborative, hybrid model that operated as an extension of the client's management team. Over a one-year plan, COFOMO ensured structured activity planning, transition, and knowledge transfer. A dedicated team of developers and a ServiceNow® architect took ownership of three major projects within a 6- to 9-month timeline: CMDB, HRSD, and ITSM. COFOMO introduced a clear governance structure, including an executive advisory council, and deployed a velocity-based backlog model to ensure continuous, predictable delivery.

Results

- Integrated leadership: An embedded engagement lead and architect guiding delivery and decision-making.
- Flexible delivery team: Dedicated developers/configurators ensuring sustained platform evolution.
- Accelerated roadmap execution: CMDB, HRSD, and ITSM delivered progressively and reliably.
- Structured governance: Clear decision framework supported by an executive advisory council.
- Significant cost reduction: Up to 50% savings through optimized delivery and prioritization.
- Improved delivery velocity: Backlog managed through a sustainable, performance-driven model.
- Higher platform maturity: Stronger governance, clearer processes, and increased ServiceNow® adoption.
